V. MAYOR'S COMMENTS:

Mayor Rolison Tonight, I have a couple of things that were laid on the desk for you. One is the quarterly report from all the city-wide departments which you can read at your leisure. If you have any questions, you can follow-up obviously with administration on that. Also, we have the end-of-year preliminary report that was distributed and also an update on the financial condition in the City of Poughkeepsie. In brief, we ended up in 2015 with $1.5 million deficit. The deficit actually will be closer to $4 million but expenses were stabilized a bit where we didn't spend as much in the budget as was allocated. So, therefore the $1.5 million General Fund deficit. On the second page, it kind of outlines for you where the revenue shortfalls were in various lines throughout the 2015 budget. As we had indicated previously, the end of the first quarter for 2016, if current trends with spending and expenses stayed flat, we would probably end the year with $1 million deficit for 2016. So again, look at that. We'll have obviously time to follow up with specific questions with finance. As far as budgeting goes, what we did was we started the 2017 budgeting process on June 2nd. From what I'm being told, we're about 2 months early in that process. Also, on your desk is the timeline that we have distributed to the department heads. As we start to formulate getting the information in to put the budget together and to get it to you sooner than it has been done in the past. So we can work on it together. One of the other things as it relates to money and budgets, the City completed its DRI application. It was submitted to the state. We should know within the next week or so if we make the cut. If we do make the cut, we will be giving a presentation to the Regional Economic Development Council. We're looking to compete for $10 million.

Council Member Klein: Asked what is DRI stands for?

Mayor Rolison: It's the Downtown Revitalization Initiative. I'm sorry I should have explained that. That's $100 million that the governor set aside for 10 municipalities throughout the state who are actively seeking that money. It's a very competitive process. We submitted the application and I think it's a very good application which justifies and goes to bat for the City on why we would be a fine recipient of that state aid to help move the City forward. Thank you.

Mayor Rolison also wanted to give an update on the search for City Administrator. Interviews have started, approximately six have been conducted, and will be following up with three of the six. This week interviews for the Finance Commissioner will begin.

VI. CHAIRMAN'S COMMENTS AND PRESENTATIONS:

Chairman Petsas responded that the city, this council and administration doesn't care about the youth. Stated that is the furthest from the truth. This council through its votes supports many different programs in the City of Poughkeepsie. Including the Unity Basketball Program, Pop-Warner, to the partnership with the school district, gardening programs with Nubian Directions, summer league lunch programs in the parks. Three of the councilmembers work in within the City of Poughkeepsie School districts with our youth, every day, caring about them. We also have two councilmembers who also volunteer outside of the scope of their work, as coaches for different programs in “our city”. There are several councilmembers who financially give to youth programs, himself, and Mr. Klein included, along with other councilmembers. He wants people to understand that this council, along with this Administration, that we deeply care about the youth for our city. The YMCA is a hot button item now, but wants to make it clear that last year’s council voted for a resolution to waive all of the things as Pastor Whitted indicated. We met with Mr. Ackermann, we drew up the paperwork which was agreeable to him, which was agreeable to the majority of us on the council last year. Unfortunately, the Mayor, outgoing, vetoed that resolution, and for whatever reason, there are more requirements being requested of Mr. Whitted. He stated that he can assure you that they are not personally from him. He voted for that resolution last year, and would vote for the same resolution if it was brought before him. Secondly, there was a comment made that he has the power, and has denied resolutions from being added to the agenda. He stated that he has never as the Council Chair ever denied a resolution from being put upon this agenda. If a councilperson comes to him and requests something on the agenda, it goes on the agenda. He wanted to make it clear, that he has said that sometimes things don’t have support, and will tell the councilperson that it does not have the votes. There were two tree plantings that were attended by Councilmember Johnson, Councilmember Lorraine Johnson, Councilmember Perry and Councilmember Cherry. The two trees were planted last week, one in memory of Caval Haylett over on Winnikee Avenue, and the other on Mansion Street in memory of Jayden Crawford. It was very nice, the community came out and there are two trees now that sit on two streets in memory of both of those young people who were taken from us. Wanted to thank Bruce Dooris and the Tree Department for a tremendous job of making that happen. Within two days everything came together, and thanked Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Perry for your help with all of that. John Flowers Father’s Day Parade is Saturday, June 18 2016 at 10:00. There is also going to be a huge concert on the banks of the waterfront on Sunday, June 19th. This is a 200 person choir coming from Tennessee, it’s called “Pops for Pops”. They will be set up at Waryas Park and it is a one and a half hour concert at Waryas Park at 5:00 p.m. They are actually playing the next day at Carnegie Hall, it is a pretty impressive choir.

Re: Bond Resolution R 16 – 44, Financing the Repair of the Financial Plaza Parking Deck

We discussed this at the May 16 Common Council meeting with Joe Chenler of City Engineering. This project was estimated to cost $900,000 in 2007, and the most recent estimate, just completed by the DiSalvo Engineering Group, came in a $1,434,395. I am attaching their report and a copy of the cost estimate for your information.

The parking garage is in poor condition. There is widespread slab deterioration as a result of the corrosion as a result of embedded electrical conduit, steel reinforcing bars, and prestressing strands. The type and extent of the conditions noted include cracking, delaminations, and spalling which are typical for a 40 year old exposed concrete and steel structure.

It is the recommendation that repair work begin soon, and this resolution will give us the authorization to borrow the funding necessary to complete the project.

Thank you for your consideration.

INTRODUCTION AND EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Di Salvo Engineering Group was retained by the City of Poughkeepsie to perform a structural review of the composite prestressed concrete slab and steel framed parking garage at the Financial Plaza in Poughkeepsie, NY. The purpose of the review was to update our 2007 evaluation of the general condition of the structural system and identify elements requiring repair.

The investigation consisted of a visual walk-around survey of the structure, including the composite cast-in-place/precast slabs, steel framing and expansion joints. The concrete slabs were partially sounded to determine any change in the amount of delaminated areas.

The parking garage is in poor condition. There is widespread slab deterioration as a result of the corrosion of embedded electrical conduit, steel reinforcing bars and prestressing strands. The type and extent of the conditions noted include cracking, delaminations, and spalling which are typical for a 40 year old exposed concrete and steel structure. The previously installed waterproof membrane, slab patch repairs, and crack sealing repairs from 2002 are failing and new deterioration is occurring. The recommended repairs indicated include removing loose concrete, cleaning and protecting the reinforcing steel, patching the affected areas and sealing to prevent future moisture intrusion.

The investigation indicates the concrete elements of the garage are at high risk for future corrosion and increased deterioration. A contributing factor is the large amount of concrete delaminations and spalls caused by corrosion of the embedded steel reinforcing bars, prestressing strands and electrical conduit and further aggravated by the infiltration of water through the embedded conduit and failed sealed joints.

We strongly recommend the damaged concrete be repaired and the repair program include the removal and replacement of the Roof Level waterproof membrane and applying a high-quality sealer to Levels 2 and 3. Other repairs include the replacement of the roof expansion joints, repairing of cracked precast concrete slabs and miscellaneous steel repairs.

As a safety measure, because of the heavy deterioration of portions of the concrete slabs, it is recommended the garage be posted for a maximum 6,000 lbs. axle load. We also recommend the continuing practice of storing plowed snow on the roof level be limited to piles that are no heavier than the design uniform load of 40 pounds per square foot (about a foot-and-a-half of compacted snow) outside of the designated storage areas shown on the original plans to prevent overstressing the slabs and beams.

The basis for this opinion, specific details, photographs, recommendations, limitations and qualifications regarding our findings are stated in the remainder of this report.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this report is to summarize the results of our evaluation of the visible and accessible portions of the composite precast prestressed concrete parking garage, provide our opinion regarding the adequacy of the structure, and make recommendations for remedial repairs. Our survey specifically addressed the exposed accessible portions of the parking garage.

THE DESCRIPTION OF STRUCTURE

The parking garage was built around 1976. The structure consists of cast-in-place concrete slabs on precast concrete stay-in-place forms supported on structural steel beams and columns. The garage has three elevated levels, Level 2, Level 3, and Roof Level. Level 1 is asphalt on-grade. The levels are accessed by internal sloping ramps. See Figure 1. The garage plan is approximately 301 ft. by 177 ft. with 10'0" floor-to-floor heights.

The slab is 5-1/2" thick and is comprised of 3-1/4" thick cast-in-place concrete placed on 2-1/4" precast, prestressed, 8-foot wide, solid slabs which span 16' and rest on 30" deep steel beams. The beams act compositely with the concrete slabs with shear studs welded to the top flange.

The available drawings do not indicate the placement and number of reinforcing steel in the precast stay-in-place form slabs. The reinforcement for the precast slabs was determined by observing the layout at soffit spalls, repair areas and electromagnetic readings taken in undamaged areas. We measured (11) - 3/8" diameter prestressing strands in an 8 foot wide member, and 6" by 9" (parallel to span) W2.5 x W2.5 (0.174" diameter wire) welded wire mesh at the bottom of the slab.

The garage beams and columns are made of Corten (weathering) steel, which is typically left unpainted to allow a protective coating of rust to form. The steel beams have a typical main span of 59 feet. See Figure 2 for a sketch of the slab/beam configuration.

An expansion joint occurs on each level at the approximate mid-length of the garage.

Previous repairs to the parking structure include expansion joint replacement, installation of a waterproof traffic membrane on the Roof Level, top surface patch repair and crack repair on all levels, and removal of loose soffit delaminations and coating of exposed reinforcing on all levels. Emergency repairs were also made in 2009 on the roof level slabs and expansion joint beams.

THE SCOPE OF THE INVESTIGATION

The investigation was performed in accordance with our proposal letter dated April 8, 2016 and consisted of a visual survey of the exposed surfaces of the garage to observe and photograph the general conditions. Cracking, delaminations and other types of deterioration were noted. The concrete slabs were randomly sounded with a hammer and chain to check for hidden defects and chain-dragged to determine the relative amount of the delaminated concrete. Approximately 15% of the exposed concrete slabs were sounded for comparison purposes with our 2007 report.

The purpose of the investigation was to determine the present condition of the parking garage and to categorize any repairs that would be needed to maintain the serviceability of the parking deck to perform its originally designed function.

OBSERVATIONS OF EXISTING CONDITIONS

Slabs: Top Surface

- The Roof Level is protected by a waterproof traffic membrane in generally poor to fair condition.
- Conditions noted on the top surface of the slab include previous patches, cracks, scaling and delaminations. See Figure 4 for a typical location.
- The condition of the top surface is fair to good at the Roof Level and poor at Levels 2 and 3.
- The cracks noted on the top surface occur over the location of the supporting steel beams or the joints between the precast forms and are typical of flexural and/or shrinkage cracks. Most of the cracks have been routed and are filled with sealant. The condition of the sealant is poor-to-fair.
- Portions of Level 2 and 3, (approximately 15%), were sounded by chain dragging and/or hammer to determine any change in the delaminations noted in 2007. We spot checked the roof level.
- The sounding indicates most of the existing patches have failed and new delaminations are occurring in the original concrete as well. The amount of delamination has approximately doubled since our 2007 report. We estimate approximately 5,500 sq.ft. of delaminations on both Levels 2 and 3 and 1,000 sq. ft. on the Roof Level for an estimated total of 12,000 sq. ft.

Slabs: Soffit

- Conditions noted on the slab soffit include cracks, rust stains, delaminations, spalls, and exposed corroded reinforcing elements.
- The condition of the soffit is poor at the Roof Level and fair at Levels 2 and 3.
- There are numerous delaminated and spalled areas throughout the garage. To minimize risk to garage patrons, municipal workers have been periodically removing loose delaminations and painting the exposed reinforcing steel since the 2009 repairs.
- Overhead repairs made in 2009 are in good to excellent condition. Some of the patches have shrinkage-type cracks and leakage (See Figure 5), but no delamination or spalling was noted.
- Significant deterioration was noted in the slab soffit adjacent to some beams.
- Additional soffit deterioration since 2007 has occurred. We estimate the increase in area at 10%. Most of the new deterioration is occurring at existing spalled areas.

- The ongoing soffit deterioration is caused by corrosion of the embedded rebar, prestressing strands and electrical conduit initiated by leakage through the slab. The deteriorated conduit allows water to cause widespread deterioration by providing a path for the water to travel down the ramp.
- The area of the soffit spalls and delaminations are estimated to be 400 sq. ft., 850 sq. ft. and 1,500 sq. ft. for Level 2, Level 3 and Roof Level, respectively. Figure 6 is the worst area noted under the roof level. The spalled areas which existed in 2007 have increased approximately 10% (avg.) more than in 2007. Some new cracked and spalled areas have occurred as well.
- Previously-noted, flexural-type cracks noted in 2007 appear to be unchanged and no new cracks of this type were noted. This type of crack was noted at approximately twenty (20) of the eight foot wide precast slab units. There is no discernible pattern to the cracked slabs and we do not have a cause for the cracking. This leads us to believe these may have occurred during construction.

Steel Framing

- The Corten (weathering steel) beams are generally in good condition, although some beams were noted with localized corrosion and delamination. Some painted portions of the beams are starting to peel.
- Corrosion and deterioration occurs on the lower flange of beams facing the one-way traffic flow on the first section of center ramp. This is the result of deicing salts directly deposited on top of the lower flange during the winter from the back of the truck servicing the garage. The localized loss of section does not appear to be any greater than in 2007 and is estimated to be less than 5%.
- There are beam-to-column moment connections which have failed due to corrosion. See Figure 7. We noted three (3) locations.

Many of the interior columns have suffered significant localized corrosion at their bases. See Figure 8. The corrosion has caused a loss of section of approximately 20-50% (max.).

Expansion Joints

- The expansion joints are a "gland-type" configuration. See Figure 9 for a typical garage expansion joint.
- The roof level joints were noted to leak heavily during a rain event.
- No joint leakage was noted on the Levels 2 and 3 during the rain event and no evidence of previous water infiltration was observed.

- The steel framing is interrupted at the expansion joints to allow lateral movement. The beams at the joint are supported on steel seats and rubber pads. At the Roof Level, corrosion of the steel seat has occurred and the rubber pads appear to be deteriorating. At Levels 2 and 3, the steel seat and rubber pads are in good condition.

Miscellaneous

- Stairways are located at the northeast and southwest corners of the garage. The north stair steel elements are in satisfactory condition with minor corrosion. The south stair was replaced with a galvanized stair in 2012 and 2014-2015. This stair is in excellent condition.
- Large cracks occur in the masonry at most levels in the northeast corner of the elevator tower. The cracks do not appear to have changed significantly since our 2007 report. The cracked masonry is displaced laterally from the plane of the wall, but not vertically. The cracks are typical of those caused by differential movements between the garage and the elevator tower.
- The concrete slab in the elevated walkway connecting the Roof Level to the adjacent office building has a large crack on the north side. The slab is supported by a steel angle attached to the garage structure. This angle is heavily corroded. See Figure 10.

CALCULATIONS

General

We performed calculations to check the adequacy of the original design and to determine if the heavy localized deterioration of the precast concrete slabs is creating an overstress condition. The framing was analyzed using a uniform parking garage live load of 40 psf plus the actual dead loads as required under the current New York State Building Code.

Slabs

The precast slabs were originally designed to support the construction loading of the cast-in-place slab during slab placement and the final uniform loading after the slab has cured and become a composite section. Our analysis of a typical slab indicates that the original design is adequate under factored uniform loading for both positive and negative moments. The badly deteriorated slabs, with 2 or more broken or debonded bottom strands, do not meet the minimum loading requirement. This condition should be addressed by repairing the slab.

There are localized areas where there is slab deterioration on top and bottom over a beam. These locations have lost most of the concrete cross section and possibly the reinforcing steel. Our calculations indicate these locations may not meet the minimum loading requirement. This potential overstress condition should be addressed by repairing/replacing the affected portion of slab.

Steel Beams

The steel beams were originally designed to be composite with the slab. We reviewed a typical interior beam for a 40 psf uniform live load plus actual dead loads and found it to be adequate.

OPINION AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The parking garage is in poor condition. There is widespread slab deterioration resulting in corrosion of embedded reinforcing bars and prestressing strands. The type and extent of the conditions noted are typical for a 40 year old exposed concrete and steel structure. The previously installed waterproof membrane, slab patch repairs, and crack sealing repairs are failing and new deterioration is occurring. The repairs indicated include removing loose concrete, cleaning and protecting the reinforcing steel, patching and sealing the affected areas to prevent future moisture intrusion.

We observed some cracks, deflections, and deterioration that indicate that isolated portions of some of the garage structural elements are overstressed and should be restored. In addition, because of the heavy deterioration of portions of the concrete slabs, it is recommended that the maximum axle weight of vehicles be posted as limited to 6,000 lbs. Also, plowed snow on the Roof Level should be limited to piles that are no heavier than the design uniform load of 40 pounds per square foot (about a foot-and-a-half depth of compacted snow) to prevent overstressing the slabs and beams except at the designated 16' by 32' areas as shown on the original design plans.

The investigation indicates the concrete elements of the garage are at high risk for future corrosion and increased deterioration. A contributing factor is the large amount of concrete delaminations and spalls caused by corrosion of the embedded steel reinforcing bars, prestressing strands and electrical conduit and further aggravated by the infiltration of water through the embedded conduit.

The previously repaired patched areas are in poor condition. Most of the slab deterioration is related to these patches. In addition, the physical and chemical properties of the patch concrete are different from the original concrete. As a result, the dissimilar environments of the patch and surrounding concrete create an electrochemical imbalance between the portion of the reinforcing bar within the patch and the reinforcing bar within the surrounding concrete, triggering additional corrosion in the reinforcing bar and resulting in additional spalling. This is commonly referred to as "ring corrosion" as it occurs around the perimeter of the original patch.

Many loose delaminations of the slab soffit were noted during our investigation. Subsequently, if overhead delaminations should become loose, then they should be removed as soon as they are encountered to prevent damage to vehicles or injury to garage patrons. Likewise, delaminations and spalls on the top surface should be addressed immediately to eliminate a tripping hazard to garage patrons.

The deteriorated conditions should be repaired as soon as possible to prevent additional corrosion of the concrete and embedded reinforcing and to extend the safety and serviceability of the parking garage. The garage is reaching a critical state where replacement of the slabs may be

The recommended repair work should include the following:

1. Repair the concrete slab delaminations as follows:
  - Remove all the loose concrete or patching material down to sound concrete. Expose fully any mild reinforcing steel uncovered in the patch area with a minimum of 3/4" clear around the steel. DO NOT undermine the prestressing strands if still embedded in concrete. If any of the embedded steel does not have the required 3/4" clear cover to the surrounding concrete surfaces, then the patch should be mounded slightly to achieve this minimum cover. Note: some repair areas may require temporary shoring due to the extent of the repairs.
  - The existing embedded electrical conduit should be abandoned in place. All the exposed junction boxes should be removed and the concrete patched.
  - The horizontal limits of the repair should go back to clean rebar/prestressing strand. Remove the concrete carefully, minimizing any damage to the reinforcement. The perimeter of the repair area will be outlined with a shallow saw cut.
  - Prepare the concrete and any exposed reinforcement surfaces for proper bonding. Corroded steel will be cleaned and painted. Patch prepared surfaces with a high-quality, shrinkage-compensated, prepackaged cementitious material for the particular repair location (horizontal, vertical/overhead, precast). Cure well to prevent shrinkage cracking.
  - ALTERNATE SLAB REPAIR: It may be prudent to replace the heavily deteriorated areas of slab using full-depth removal and replacement methods because they will generally last longer than a partial-depth method. A cost-benefit analysis of the two methods should be made prior to undertaking the repairs.
2. Remove and replace Roof Level waterproof membrane and install a high-quality sealer on Levels 2 and 3.
3. Repair cracks and new/existing control/construction joints to prevent contaminants from reaching the embedded reinforcement and causing corrosion and new delamination and spalling. The repair would consist of routing the crack, priming and filling the crack with a high-quality sealant designed for concrete.
4. Strengthen the cracked slab areas locally by adding carbon fiber to the soffit of the affected areas.
5. Repair the Roof Level expansion joints by replacing the joint filler material.

6. Remove and replace the corroded steel angle supporting the edge of the roof level connector bridge slab. All the new materials should be galvanized or stainless steel to prevent future corrosion.
7. Remove the build-up corrosion by-products on the steel beams.
8. Implementation of a regularly scheduled routine maintenance program is recommended to keep the parking garage structure and its' components in good working order and to prevent the future deterioration of the parking garage structural elements.

Please note that the above repair recommendations are to be used as guidelines for the design and preparation of complete repair documents and are not intended to be used as repair documents.

LIMITATIONS

1. This report is based on our visual observations and field measurements of conditions that were readily accessible at the time of our review. Conditions may exist which are hidden from view that could affect some of the recommendations contained in this report. The recommendations and conclusions reached, therefore, are based on the information available and are subject to revision if and when additional evidence or information is available.
2. The findings associated with this report are limited to the condition of the exposed structural elements.
3. Our investigation of the condition of the parking garage was not exhaustive. As is common for this type of service, we limited our review to areas of concern, such as delaminations at areas of prestressing strand corrosion. We did not investigate every delamination or every square foot of the structure. The extent of the investigation is further described in the Scope of Investigation section of this report.
4. We performed limited material tests on the concrete. This report does not express or imply a warranty of the entire structure.

Re: Resolution R 16-54, Approving the Interfund Borrowing for the Repair of the Sewer Plant Roof

This resolution would authorize the borrowing of $300,000 from the Sewer Fund for the purpose of repairing the roof at the Sewer Plant. The funding for this project will ultimately come from the NYS Environmental Facilities Corporation. When that funding is received, we will repay the Sewer Fund the money advanced. It is expected that the funding will be received in early 2017.

We have already put this project out to bid and will be opening the bids on Wednesday, June 8. The critical condition of the roof makes its replacement a high priority.

Thank you for your consideration.

COMMON COUNCIL
City of Poughkeepsie

RE: Approving a license agreement with JM Development for the staging and storage of modular units which will be used in the development of PURA 14

Dear Chairman Petsas and Councilmembers:

At the request of the administration attached hereto is a resolution authorizing the City to enter into a License Agreement with JM Development, LLC, a limited liability corporation wholly owned by the Bonura Family. The Bonuras are currently developing the Water Club residential complex on the PURA 14 property. This development is a modular development which requires the staging of the pre-fabricated modular units. They intend to stage the units on the DeLaval Property. The license agreement is temporary and will only be utilized for this limited purpose.

The Bunoras, subject to a previous agreement, have a contractual right to Lease this parcel as well; however, the lease has not been executed. I anticipate the Bunoras making a presentation to the Council regarding this parcel, as they have requested a change in the contemplated development.

Respectfully submitted,

Paul Ackermann, Esq.
Corporation Counsel

State Assistance Contract : C302762

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained herein and the terms and conditions of State Assistance Contract Number: C302762, Grantor conveys to Grantee a permanent Environmental Easement pursuant to ECL Article 71, Title 36 in, on, over, under, and upon the Controlled Property as more fully described herein ("Environmental Easement")

1. Purposes. Grantor and Grantee acknowledge that the Purposes of this Environmental Easement are: to convey to Grantee real property rights and interests that will run with the land in perpetuity in order to provide an effective and enforceable means of encouraging the reuse and redevelopment of this Controlled Property at a level that has been determined to be safe for a specific use while ensuring the performance of operation, maintenance, and/or monitoring requirements; and to ensure the restriction of future uses of the land that are inconsistent with the above-stated purpose.

2. Institutional and Engineering Controls. The controls and requirements listed in the Department approved Site Management Plan ("SMP") including any and all Department approved amendments to the SMP are incorporated into and made part of this Environmental Easement. These controls and requirements apply to the use of the Controlled Property, run with the land, are binding on the Grantor and the Grantor's successors and assigns, and are enforceable in law or equity against any owner of the Controlled Property, any lessees and any person using the Controlled Property.

A. (1) The Controlled Property may be used for:

Commercial as described in 6 NYCRR Part 375-1.8(g)(2)(iii) and Industrial as described in 6 NYCRR Part 375-1.8(g)(2)(iv)

(2) All Engineering Controls must be operated and maintained as specified in the Site Management Plan (SMP);

(3) All Engineering Controls must be inspected at a frequency and in a manner defined in the SMP.

(4) Groundwater and other environmental or public health monitoring must be performed as defined in the SMP;

(5) Data and information pertinent to Site Management of the Controlled Property must be reported at the frequency and in a manner defined in the SMP;

(6) All future activities on the property that will disturb remaining contaminated material must be conducted in accordance with the SMP;

C. The SMP describes obligations that the Grantor assumes on behalf of Grantor, its successors and assigns. The Grantor's assumption of the obligations contained in the SMP which may include sampling, monitoring, and/or operating a treatment system, and providing certified reports to the NYSDEC, is and remains a fundamental element of the Department's determination that the Controlled Property is safe for a specific use, but not all uses. The SMP may be modified in accordance with the Department's statutory and regulatory authority. The Grantor and all successors and assigns, assume the burden of complying with the SMP and obtaining an up-to-date version of the SMP from:

E. Grantor covenants and agrees that until such time as the Environmental Easement is extinguished in accordance with the requirements of ECL Article 71, Title 36 of the ECL, the property deed and all subsequent instruments of conveyance relating to the Controlled Property shall state in at least fifteen-point bold-faced type:

This property is subject to an Environmental Easement held by the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation pursuant to Title 36 of Article 71 of the Environmental Conservation Law.

F. Grantor covenants and agrees that this Environmental Easement shall be incorporated in full or by reference in any leases, licenses, or other instruments granting a right to use the Controlled Property.

G. Grantor covenants and agrees that it shall annually, or such time as NYSDEC may allow, submit to NYSDEC a written statement by an expert the NYSDEC may find acceptable certifying under penalty of perjury, in such form and manner as the Department may require, that:

(2) the institutional controls and/or engineering controls employed at such site:

(iii) that nothing has occurred that would impair the ability of such control to protect the public health and environment;

(3) the owner will continue to allow access to such real property to evaluate the continued maintenance of such controls;

4. Reserved Grantor's Rights. Grantor reserves for itself, its assigns, representatives, and successors in interest with respect to the Property, all rights as fee owner of the Property, including:

A. Use of the Controlled Property for all purposes not inconsistent with, or limited by the terms of this Environmental Easement;

B. The right to give, sell, assign, or otherwise transfer part or all of the underlying fee interest to the Controlled Property, subject and subordinate to this Environmental Easement;

5. Enforcement

A. This Environmental Easement is enforceable in law or equity in perpetuity by Grantor, Grantee, or any affected local government, as defined in ECL Section 71-3603, against the owner of the Property, any lessees, and any person using the land. Enforcement shall not be defeated because of any subsequent adverse possession, laches, estoppel, or waiver. It is not a defense in any action to enforce this Environmental Easement that: it is not appurtenant to an interest in real property; it is not of a character that has been recognized traditionally at common law; it imposes a negative burden; it imposes affirmative obligations upon the owner of any interest in the burdened property; the benefit does not touch or concern real property; there is no privity of estate or of contract; or it imposes an unreasonable restraint on alienation.

B. If any person violates this Environmental Easement, the Grantee may revoke the Certificate of Completion with respect to the Controlled Property.

At the expiration of such period of time to cure, or any extensions granted by Grantee, the Grantee shall notify Grantor of any failure to adequately cure the breach or suspected breach, and Grantee may take any other appropriate action reasonably necessary to remedy any breach of this Environmental Easement, including the commencement of any proceedings in accordance with applicable law.

D. The failure of Grantee to enforce any of the terms contained herein shall not be deemed a waiver of any such term nor bar any enforcement rights.

Animal Control--1st Quarter:

No report available as Animal Control officer is out of work on Worker's Compensation.

Other Projects Currently Overseen by the Police Department:

911 Phone System and Backup Room

There are no updates to report this quarter.

Computerization

Coplogic (online citizen reporting)

The system continues to be used by the residents and visitors and during the first quarter of 2016, there were a total of 134 reports filed. This had an estimated savings of 201 work hours and a cost savings of $6,700.

The IT director (Rocco German) continues to work on the various computer and hardware issues with Chris Bodin. We continue to experience computer failures due to outdated equipment and other hardware issues.

Camera Upgrade and Expansion

We have been working with the vendor and have identified two new locations that will be fitted with cameras for monitoring using the funding from grants from DCJS (G.I.V.E. II) and NY State legislative funds. These two areas will be Main Street at the intersection of Hamilton Street and Main Street at the intersection of Columbus Drive.

Redundancy:

The generator replacement project has been discontinued due to a lack of funding. We have adjusted the time of the present "exercise" of our existing generator after complaints of noxious fumes from the unit.

Injured/Restricted Status:

Sworn--Seven members are currently out on long-term medical: McGinley (RTW 07/22/11, restricted duty then back out DI on 7/22/11), Filippelli (9/4/13), Rutulante (12/3/14), Lee (1/6/16), Labrada (3/7/16), Fernandez (3/10/16), and English (3/15/16).

Two members are currently on restricted duty-Richards (RTW 9/12/10) and McRory (11/9/15).

Civilian--ACO Theresa Matuck (Worker's Comp 3/31/16)

Statistics:

The first quarter of 2016 showed a slight increase in overall crime of the same time period of 2015. This could possibly be attributed to the unseasonably warm weather and overall mild winter in 2016.

Official Minutes of the Council Meeting of Monday, June 6, 2016

Violent crime was up by 73% with 57 incidents in 2016 vs. 33 in 2015. However, the five year average versus 2016 is still down by -15.1%.

Arrests showed an increase from 2015 of 301 vs. 318 in 2016, up 6%.

Burglary and attempted burglary were down from 2015 at -38% and -100% with larceny up 11% from 2015.

The first quarter showed an increase in moving violations (+530) up 70%, an increase in parking violations (+1172) up 15%, and an increase in City Ordinance tickets (+24) up 32%.

Traffic collisions were down overall from 250 in 2015 to 156 in 2016, a decrease of 60%.

Attached are the 2016 statistics for the first quarter (Jan-Mar) with a comparison to the same period in 2015.

For further information, please refer to the attached statistics.

The statistics format was changed in 2007 to better reflect how NY State maintains their information. For their records, the State counts attempted crimes as actual crimes. Our previous reporting split this into separate categories and was not reflected in reports prior to 2007. However, the department now includes the information as a separate part of the report.

In addition, for statistical purposes, NY State considers unauthorized use of a motor vehicle as a motor vehicle theft. Therefore, the department will also list these categories separately on the report.
